

Position Available to Teach Rangeland Plant Communities Course Spring 2006

A one semester appointment is available to teach this undergraduate course at the University of Arizona, Tucson because the regular instructor will be on sabbatical leave. This is an excellent opportunity for someone with a recent PhD or a faculty on sabbatical. The course web page <http://ag.arizona.edu/classes/ram382/home.html> contains the syllabus and additional materials to learn more about the course content and organization. An experienced teaching assistant is available to assist with the labs, grading, and field trips. Classes begin 11 January 2006 and finals end 12 May 2006.

Send a letter of in interest to Mitch McClaran at mcclaran@u.arizona.edu.